

2017 Right-Size Flower Garden Calendar

Do you dream about a stunning flower garden that shines for three seasons or more? How about one that is also 50% less work, requires less water, less fertilizer, no pesticides, is pollinator friendly and deer resistant? Stop dreaming and use smart tips, great plants and right timing advice in this calendar to make it a reality. Kerry Ann Mendez, an award-winning writer, speaker and garden designer, shares monthly advice for the right-size flower garden – one that perfectly suits your needs as well as the planet's. Garden for life by using the right plants, right site, right practices and right timing!

The 2017 calendar is a tribute to great public gardens across the United States whose mission is to connect people of all ages to the world of plants by providing inspiring display gardens, educational programs and environmental stewardship opportunities. Featured gardens are Chanticleer; Frederik Meijer Gardens and Sculpture Park; Ladew Topiary Gardens; Lewis Ginter Botanical Garden; Longwood Gardens; Morris Arboretum; New Jersey Botanical Garden; New York Botanical Garden; Rotary Botanical Gardens; the High Line; the U.S. National Arboretum and Wave Hill.
